

Willie Mae Kennedy

April 20, 1941 - January 17, 2020

Willie Mae Kennedy affectionately known as "Mane" to family and friends was a lifetime resident of Baltimore, Maryland. Mane was born a twin sister on April 20, 1941 to the late Willie Frank and Madie Lee Wade. She attended schools in the Baltimore City School System and worked briefly for Consolidated Glass Company in Westport, Maryland.

Mane was a woman with a gentle, kind and quiet spirit who enjoyed raising her sons. Mane also enjoyed spending lots of quality time and outings with her family members. Mane shared a special bond with her twin sister Lillie Mae Scott, and the two of them celebrated almost every holiday and birthday together. Mane loved eating good food and her favorite food was potatoes with or without a meat. She mostly enjoyed relaxing and watching lots of television, especially her favorite show Star Trek (yes she was a Trekkie). She was so kind and pleasant to everyone she encountered and knew.

Mane was preceded in death by her siblings James Wade, Henry Wade, Charles Wade, Walter Wade, Sarah Wade and Rosalie Powell, also several Nieces, Nephews and Cousins.

Mane leaves to celebrate her life, her sons Charles Caster and Joseph "Mike" Kennedy Jr, her sisters Lillie Mae Scott (Twin), Emma Wade and Beatrice Silver, grandson Joseph M Kennedy 3rd, and a host of Nephews, Nieces, Cousins, friends and devoted extended family Marie and Keith Patterson, and their family and staff she lived with for 15 years who she loved dearly.
