“ Our hearts and prayers are with you today and always.

Eric, Jewel, We love you!

Eric, I know you remember those days of having to pick June apples and the pear tree and playing on Lamberth St. and walking to West End Store. Those were good days and happy memories. These are the things that made you who you are today. I love you. I'm proud of you.

Jewel, I didn't get a chance to know you as well as I know Eric, but my love for you is still there. Your mother was like a big sister when I was growing up.

Just because I don't know you personally, it doesn't mean the my love is any less. That's what families do...Love each other know matter what.
