

Ariana Rosas-Siles

August 11, 2012 - December 16, 2024

Ariana Rosas-Siles, age 12, of Upper Marlboro, MD, passed away on December 16, 2024. She was born on August 11, 2012, in Takoma Park, MD, to her loving mother, Veronica Siles.

Ariana was a bright, adventurous, and compassionate soul who brought joy to everyone she encountered. She was a seventh-grade student at James Madison Middle School, where she excelled academically, earning a spot on the Honor Roll multiple times, including the first quarter of this year. Ariana played the clarinet in her school band and had plans to try out for the soccer team in June of 2025.

Ariana's zest for life shone through in her many hobbies and interests. She loved playing Roblox and Fortnite, styling her hair, and collecting stuffed animals, especially Hello Kitty. In August, she began ballet and immediately fell in love with dancing. She also enjoyed cooking and baking for her family. Her homemade spaghetti was a family favorite, and this past Thanksgiving, she baked cornbread that quickly became a hit. Her favorite foods included mozzarella sticks and pizza, which she often enjoyed during moments of laughter and connection with her loved ones.

Ariana could often be found roller-skating around the house, bringing smiles and filling the home with energy. Her love for animals, particularly cats, fueled her dream of becoming a veterinarian when she grew up. She shared many special moments with her sister over boba tea, her favorite drink. Known for her fearless spirit, she was the only cousin brave enough to ride every roller coaster at Six Flags, and she loved visiting parks, always dreaming of taking a goose home.

Ariana especially loved when her aunts called her "Arianita," a nickname that always made her smile and feel their love. It was a small but meaningful reminder of their love for her.

Her world was touched by her favorite colors—baby blue, which symbolized her soft, caring nature, and purple, which represented her strength and grace. These colors reflected the beautiful, vibrant spirit she shared with everyone around her.

Ariana's sweet, caring, and persistent personality endeared her to everyone. Though shy at first, she would light up any room once she felt comfortable, sharing her humor, warmth, and vibrant energy.

Ariana is survived by her mother, Veronica Siles; her siblings, Nicole, Junior, and Alejandro; her grandparents, German Siles and Selva Soliz; her cousins, Mariela, Jaden, Kayla, Anthony, Alexander, O'Mere, Joleiny, and Za'riah; her nephew, Zaire; and her aunts and uncles. She will be deeply missed by her family, friends, and all who knew her.

“ Hey Ari, I just wanted to say that I miss you and thank you for the memories. I remember back in fifth grade when we first met you made me feel like I could be myself like someone actually cared about how I felt and that you were my best friend and that I regret not being able to say goodbye. I just hope you knew how much you impacted me and all your friends and that we all miss you down here. I'm sorry for not being able to say goodbye and hopefully you knew how much we all cared for you. And I still have that bracelet you gave me and now it means everything to have something to remember you by. I just wanted to say thank you for being there for me when I needed you and thank you for being my friend and for all the memories we created and I hope you're doing well up there. Again thank you Ariana, you will forever be missed 🙏❤️

“ Hey bestie I really miss you man. I miss all the times we laughed together joked around and walked. I remember our little silly dance we had and I will keep that ring you gave me. You were my bestest friend and this all feels like a dream that I could never wake up from. I just wish I could've said more to you that last day I saw you. I miss walking home together, it's really lonely and not the same without your lively and lovely energy. I will always miss your beautiful smile and your nice laugh. I miss just talking and having fun. I honestly wish that that monday I had called you like I usually do in the morning just to hear your voice one last time. The band will always miss you, our friends will always miss you and especially me I will always miss you. It was nice whenever we talked and I was looking forward to playing soccer with you on the team this year. I hope you liked the klets I gave you. Ariana was so special to me and even when I was sad or mad she always found a way to break the silence and get me to laugh. I will always miss that big hug you give it's really comforting. You my best friend and will always be my best friend even as your in heaven and I'm on earth ill still seed you when I look into the sky. I'm so sorry for your loss and I hope the family is doing okay. ❤️🕊️

“ I remeber being really unsecure of myself but still posting on soical media anyways. Ariana was one of the people that always liked my stories and responded to them telling me im pretty with a heart emoji at the end. I always said thank you with a heart at the end too but i never really told her how helpful her compliments where to me. The day the school announced her death my teacher by mistake said the wrong last name. When i heard ariana my mind was racing trying to think of different arianas in the school just thinking to myself ‘it cant be the ariana I know; Arianita. Right?’ I wish i could have said more to you and told you how much your compliments helped me in my darkest times. You truely are the sweetest soul ive ever met, hyping me up even though we wherent close . You’ll forever be in my heart ❤️

“ Ariana, you were the most trust worthy, beautiful, and amazing friend I could ever ask for . Though we had our ups and downs, we still continued to be friends . I miss you so much, I still remember all our memories together and the group we used to be in . Your smile was beautiful and so was your soul, if only we could prevent your death . Your always always in my heart and thoughts . LLA 🕊️
