“ One of the sweetest people I have ever met. So charming and elegant. I enjoyed our many conversations about growing up in the South and moving to Washington, DC as adults. She raised three daughters in her own image...beautiful, elegant, loving, and kind. She and husband, Wiley, certain left their mark...a feat of which I am sure they are quite proud as they stroll around heaven all day, holding hands! (Oh, look, there's Lee. Let's go welcome him.)

“ I always wanted to meet my great grandmother and last December I finally got opportunity to see her. It was only a short visit but I was in awe; meeting her was the highlight of my vacation. She was very sweet and I was just happy to be in her presence. She spent time with me going through old photos and sharing stories with me as I looked on. I almost wanted to cry because I was so happy to finally be with her. I wish my visit with her was more than just a few hours but I am very thankful for the time I did have with her. When I left that day I remember telling her I was coming back and I wanted to see her again, I am so sad that I didn't make it back in time to see her again. I know she's in a better place now, rest in peace great grandma. I love you.

“ I am deeply saddened by the death of your mother. Never would have thought that only 4 months after Momma's death that her dear, dear friend would be joining her in heaven. What peace it brings me to know that they are together once again. God makes no mistakes and He heals all wounds. I will keep you in my prayers.
