

Barbara Jean Douglas

December 2, 1940 - November 26, 2006

Miss Barbara Jean Douglas, a beloved daughter born to the late William Robert Douglas and Sarah Gladden Douglas on December 2, 1940, departed this life on November 26, 2006 at Georgetown University Hospital. She was preceded in death by her brother, William James Douglas; sister-in-law Norma Shearer Douglas and niece, Norma Sinah Douglas.

Barbara grew up in the Washington, D.C. Northeast area and spent many of her earlier years enjoying her surroundings with family and friends. Later in life, she was stricken with illness and was enrolled in the Wisconsin Avenue Nursing Facility NW Health Care Center where she lived as a resident during the latter part of her life. Even there, Barbara was known as the loving, sweet and quiet person everyone grew to know. She accepted Christ at an early age at New Mt. Olive Baptist Church. Barbara enjoyed church activities and loved to sing. Her favorite songs were "Blessed Assurance" and "Jesus Loves Me."

She leaves to cherish fond memories: devoted nieces and nephews Gloria J. Moore Charles, Angela R. Smith Cornell, Robert J. Douglas Sheila, and Anthony H. Douglas; great-nieces and nephews Crystal L. Moore, Charles E. Moore III, Tracey M. Smith, Cornell Smith, Jr., Marc Douglas, Charmaine Douglas, William Rocky Douglas, Erika Douglas, and Keith Douglas; great-great nieces and nephews Nyah Bowman, Bianca Moore, Ryan Smith, Tre

Smith, and Amani Williams. She also leaves behind a host of other relatives and friends.

We will greatly miss you!
