

Bettie Jean Brown

February 12, 1939 - November 27, 2022

Bettie was born on February 12, 1939, in Culpeper, VA to the late Charles and Mary Brown. Bettie attended Culpeper public schools. Following graduation, she attended Cortez Peters Business College, where she was valedictorian of her graduating class. She also attended Southeastern University studying business and accounting. Her 30-year career in accounting included service in the Federal Government and the District of Columbia Government.

Bettie enjoyed spending time with her sisters, family members, and friends. She was an active member of the AARP. Her favorite activities included traveling, trips to the casinos, cruises, family times and watching her favorite football team win the game, The Washington Commanders formerly known as the Redskins. She also enjoyed a nice car ride on the weekends. As much as Bettie was serious, she was quick witted, and had a good sense of humor. Just when you thought she wasn't listening she would come back with the best one-liners that would make you laugh.

Bettie was an avid reader of the Bible and had scholarly knowledge of the word. She joined Antioch Baptist Church (Culpeper) at an early age and was an active volunteer serving the community. While residing in Washington, DC Bettie continued her fellowship with memberships at several churches including Edgewood Baptist, Grace Memorial Baptist, and First Baptist of Minnesota Avenue.

Bettie went home to be with the Lord on November 27, 2022, following a hospitalization in Washington DC. She is survived by her beloved sisters Mary B. Hawkins (James) and Barbara B. Yates (James Melvin – deceased). She was preceded in death by her sister, Shirley Y. Brown and brothers Charles, William, Albert, and James (Jimmie) Brown, and beloved nieces, nephews, family members and friends.

“Bettie was the nicest neighbor you’d ever dream of. We shared so many memories: our birthday and Christmas gift exchange - always took place from our back porches. I’ll always remember her calling me and saying “are you downstairs?” I’d always say yes and hurry outside to meet her. I could confide in her and never worry about anything slipping out because she was such a loyal friend and confidant. I think she felt the same way about me too. I could tell the roads were getting tough for Bettie but she never really complained. I went to see her 2 days before she transitioned and even though she was noticeably weak, she softly whispered to me “I’m alright, it’s just one of those things” I knew then that she was at peace and didn’t want anyone to worry. I praise God and give Him all the glory that He saw that Bettie didn’t suffer long and He gave her rest and the eternal peace she deserved. I miss you Bettie but I know you are in a much more peaceful, happier place now with your loved ones. Rest in peace Bettie and I am grateful for the times we spent together. ❤️🙏❤️
