“ The passing of Aunt Bunt really hit me this week...No longer will I be able to stop by 1312 Rittenhouse when I'm in the district. No more mail pick-ups from my father, or just a conversation with an aunt who has ALWAYS been there for me. I will miss you DEARLY! Donna, Stephanie, Eric , and Martina keep your head up. Love you all!##imported-begin##Shannon Tchuimeni##imported-end##

“ I was very saddened to receive the news about my friend, my confidant and the person who treated me and my family like we were her "family". No matter how much I would MESS! up, she always welcome me in her home, and for that I am truly grateful. The Washington family will truly miss Mrs. Young who meant the world to us and was always there no matter what.

“ this is so hard for me to type, figuring out what to say or even how to say it. i never would've imagined having to experience this at all. i thought my beautiful grandmother would live forever and ever. i can remember being able to pick up my phone no matter what day it was, call her up and just talk about anything and everything. my favorite part when i talked with my Grandmother was hearing her laugh and her straightforward advise. I'm really going to miss being able to pick up my phone and calling her. I Love you Grandma. I miss you ever so dearly.###imported-begin##Carolyn###imported-end##
