“ Mrs. Richardson,
I am so very sorry to hear of Chuck's passing. You have always been like a mother to me, always there with a kind word, or a bag full of candy to brighten my day. I want you to know how very fortunate I feel to have had you help me grow into the woman that I am today, and at this time of grief I want you to know that you are on my mind and in my prayers. I love you.

“ I worked with Charles at the Smith Company. We were about the same age, and we enjoyed talking about the past especially old television shows. I wish that we had more time to get to know each other better. I considered Charles to be a friend. Charles was well liked by those you got to know him at the Smith Company, and he will be missed. Please accept my condolences on his passing.##imported-begin##John Nantz##imported-end##
