“ My condolences go out to the family. My name is Sheila Wright, I worked under Ms. Gamble for overtime on the units. She was a wonderful person to work for. I will be praying for everyone, and know that God will see you though these times. God Bless.##imported-begin## Sheila Wright##imported-end##

“ Please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers. Your Mom/wife was a wonderful person. I worked for her on 3E and then on 4H while it was a burn unit only. I feel like I "watched" you two girls grow up through her stories. She loved you so much. Blessings, Sherri##imported-begin##Sherri Lundholm##imported-end##

“ I didn't know her very long, but I'll never forget Ms. Gamble. One Christmas she gave me a desk plaque that stated "Friends who take time to care are really angels unaware"; and that's how I saw her, an angel. Thank you for the picture. I'll always remember her smile. May her soul rest with God forever.##imported-begin##Diane Holley##imported-end##

“ My prayers and thoughts are with Claretta's family. I loved Claretta so much. She helped me become the woman I am today. She was always so nice and kind to me. She opened her life and her family's life up to me with no hesitation. She was the perfect example of what a mentor should be. Claretta constantly pushed me in the right direction and give me motivation / advice when I needed it the most. She loved me unconditionally and I knew it. She will be deeply missed. My soul is extremely hurt.##imported-begin##Erica Gleaton##imported-end##

“ Dear Joe, Jolema and Eleasha,
Words cannot express how deeply I share in your loss. Having known Claretta since she started at WHC, I have come to consider her family. As we all have our spots within a family, Claretta was the sister who set the moral compass for the rest of the kids. She was always the one who guided the rest of the group to do the honorable things, the right things, the fair and just things, and sometimes the hard things. She inspired me to be the best I could be in all things in life, and for the privilege of knowing her, I will always be grateful. She now lends her lovely voice to the choir of angels, and if she can't spend another day here on earth with those she loved, then that is where she belongs!##imported-begin## Joani Menser##imported-end##
