“ My condolences to the entire family. Clifton Jr. did you keep learning how to play guitar even though pilot Jets off aircraft carriers! Carol and I were in the same classes often at Edgewood. I certainly miss those greater times in general. I miss bagging groceries at the commissary and the school Jazz band. I am now a retired Teacher, Retired Military, S.S recipient and Jazz musician who has performed on tour abroad with some of the Legends of Jazz. Thanks to Mr. Sands and his wife always for your kindness.

“ To the Clifton A, Sands Family:

There are absolutely NO words that can adequately express our gratitude and thanks for the blessings that "Cliff" bestowed on us for the services he rendered to the Morgan State University-School of Engineering during its earliest years of existence, We are where we are today due in large part to his love, dedication, selflessness, and unparalleled competence. The impact he made through his contributions during the design, construction, and initial operation phases of our first two engineering buildings is "priceless."

Thus, it is with humble pride that I submit these memorial words of Love and Thanks to all, on behalf our the hundreds of staff and faculty, along with the thousands of students whose lives have been and will continues to be made "richer"as a result of the presence of Clifton A. Sands' years in the earliest years of maturation of the Clarence M. Mitchell, Jr. - School of Engineering.

You all can be rightly proud.

“ I had the honor of working with Mr. Sands for about 10 years at the Clarence M. Mitchell, Jr. School of Engineering at Morgan State University. He was a dedicated and highly effective professional who was largely responsible for the design and construction of the William Donald Schaefer Engineering Building. Mr. Sands worked quietly on the minutiae of detail involved creating the building. In addition, he was a great person who cared for his fellow coworkers and students. I am a better person for having known and worked with Mr. Clifton Sands. May He Rest in Peace. God Bless!

“ Dear Verdelle and Family, Verle and I were saddened to read in the Post about Cliffs passing. We have very fond memories of our former neighbors at Edgewood Arsenal. Our Daughters were in the same HS Graduation class and we remember fondly Carols wedding. We also did not know about Craigs passing. Many blessings to you and your Family and may God continue to hold you in his loving arms. Love and Blessings, Eleanor and Verle Hammond

“ I worked with Mr. Sands for many years at Bendix and Morgan State. He set the standard for integrity and human kindness. I have not known anyone who was smarter than him or more productive in getting things done and done well. He commanded your attention and demanded excellence but never raised his voice in anger or frustration although I'm sure he felt these human emotions from time to time.

*The work he has done speaks volumes for him.
With admiration for a fabulous man who lived a powerfully meaningful and impactful life.*

I so appreciate that the good Lord saw fit to allow him to be in my life as a colleague, friend and mentee.
