“ Charlie, we love you dearly. We miss you already. Although your life took many different turns, you were always loving, caring and giving. Our family will never be the same without you. We can never fill the void we have in our hearts now. We will always cherish the time we were blessed to have you in our lives. We will forever remember your smile and laughter.

Love,

Your Family

“ Charlie will be missed by many.....Charlie will be so missed by me. For those of us who knew and loved him knew he was a caring and giving person, and ALWAYS ready to help whenever he could. He lit the room up when entering, and put the biggest smiles on children's faces when they saw him coming. Sweetie, there are no words to express how I feel, and the emptiness that came in the blink of an eye. I just try to keep in front that you are resting now and free of pain, and that God will receive a soldier....and I can hear you saying now "Baby it's okay" I will miss the late night talks and laughs, you letting me have my way (Always), listening to you and H. talk on the phone about the work day.....everyday, imitating C's dancing, singing as loud as we can to the jams of the seventies and eighties (and you never knowing all the words), remembering the days of childhood, sharing meals together, and watching you get impatient when I spend extra time in the stores shopping, listening to you talk about how much you loved and missed your mother and the funny stories about your father, brothers and sisters, agreeing to wear matching shirts at Christmas, often accompanying me on our long rides to church on Sundays, and of course your smile. Rest in Peace Sweetheart.....Love Marianne
