“ I met Desi through a girlfriend of ours at a previous job. When I came to Commerce I knew no one but when I ran into Desi in the building one day I didn't feel alone anymore. I was glad to see a familiar face.

Desi always made you laugh and would tell you just how she felt. She was kind, caring. Family and friends meant a lot to her.

My last conversation with Desi she let me know that she was not afraid of dying. If the Lord called her she would be ready.

So don't look at her as being dead but alive in spirit cause that will be with you always. You will think of what she did or what she said and it will bring a smile to your face or make you laugh.

*Love you and miss you

“ Wow, Dez was my girl, my sis and my friend for over 30 years. We laughed, cried and partied together and I will always have those memories and pics to reflect the good and bad times. She fought a fight like no other and I cannot believe I don't have her around anymore to help guide and advise me. I wake up and am like I gotta call Dez and then reality sets in. I will never forget her and how we always told each other hanging up I Love You. To her family and my extended family, I am thankful that I was blessed to know her and that you all shared her with me. Stay strong, my love to you all.
