“ I came home last week to bury my oldest brother, Ronnie and while riding back on Monday reading through the Post's death notices, I came across Eleanor's name.

Every since I assisted Eleanor in purchasing her home on Columbia Road we remain friends. I haven't spoken to her in years and after moving to Michigan, she always was in my thoughts and prays.

To the Family, my condolences to you.

Eleanor was a character. With her outspoken words that wasn't meant to hurt you, but with love to help make you stronger. A strong willed Sister who knew the bible and its verses. Always giving wisdom and advice. We have had many good talks and laughter. I will always cherrish those times.

I love the family, sorry I haven't seen Eleanor or her children in awhile but talked with Juliett once who told me about the loss of James.

Cheer up and be strong, you know your Mom and her thoughts.

Will call upon you on my return home.
