“ For all your warm and friendly ways who never met a stranger. For the smile that could light up a room, for your want to lend a helping hand, for your cheerful words of encouragement. For your strong belief in our Lord and Savior, I pray that God opened his arms and said, "Welcome Home My Good and Faithful Servant."##imported-begin##Georgia Robinson##imported-end##

“ I met Miss Elsie at the Hillcrest Boys Club Bingo. She always had a pretty smile and a winning attitude. We talked about shopping, and what was happening in the area. She talked about the last sorority meeting that she attended. I already miss her but I know that our heavenly father needed another angel and Elsie answered the call. I know that she is happy to be united with her husband. To the family, I would like to say that weeping may endure for a night but joy will come. May God bless and keep you. Sincerely, Myra D.
