“ To my first born child. As I heard and read the different remarks from your family, friends and co-workers, on the positive impact you had that made them a Better Person, it made me so very proud of you.

Your ability to make someone a Better Person, started with me, your mother. The moment the nurse laid you in my arms, you looked up at me and I down on you, YOU CHANGED MY LIFE. I became a person who wanted her child to be proud of her. In return, you became an adult that I was proud to say, This Is My Son. You were my biggest supporter and Protector all of your life.

The only difficulty was when I could not protect you from your pain and suffering. But even in that we supported each other until the end. In closing, to his friends, co-workers and family, if he made your life a little easier, brighter and/or happier, I say, Well Done My Child, take your Rest in the Master's Arms. Love you Forever and a Day.

Your Mother
