“ Please give to Jeff Braxton:

Jeff, As I glanced in the Sunday paper and saw the names of both of your parents as passing on, I went to Mass at the National Cathedral and said a prayer on their behalf. I am still a friend. Don't hesitate to lean on my shoulder. It is really sort of beautiful that they went to their new lives together.

“ My deepest condolence is extended to the family of Harold and Eleanor Braxton. Nora Bell and Dad are the names I called them. I thought of them as my second Mom and Dad. They were very important people in my life. I loved them deeply and they loved me back. I am a better person because of them. I miss them as I know the family does, also. Fond memories of them will be with us, always. They are now with our Lord and are at peace and one day we will see them again to enjoy Dad's quiet demeanor and Nora's spirited personality. My prayers are with you during your bereavement.

Sincerely,

Mary Gregory Williams
