“ I was very saddened to hear of the passing of Harvey Gaston Yancey, Jr. My condolences go to his family and friends and to all those who knew and loved him. As a mother, my special condolences go to his mother, Clara Wills. It is a loss that parents want never to endure, but knowing Clara Wills as I have for a number of years now, I know how deep her faith is and that that is what will carry her through. My sincerest sympathy to all.

With hope and caring,

“ Hi Clara,

What can one say when it comes to the loss of child. It's been only 6 weeks, today, that our Michael passed. Does a parent ever get over the loss of a child? I know our life will never be the same, and I am sure that it will be the same for you and your family.

Let me share these words with you that someone close to us shared with us. They comfort me ... even in the darkest of times. It is translated from the French and is as follows:

*Just the other side of the path
by Charles Péguy*

Death is nothing. I have simply passed into a place nearby. I am me. You are you. What we were for one another, we will always be. Give me the name that you always have. Speak to me like you always did. Do not do anything different.

Do not take a solemn or sad attitude. Continue to laugh as if we were still living together. Ask. Smile. Think of me. Pray for me. Continue to say my name at home as you have always done. Without any change of emphasis or hint of sadness.

Life means what it has always meant. It remains what it always was. The thread is not cut. Why would I be out of your thought, simply because I am out of your sight? I am waiting for you. I am not far. Just on the other side of the path.

*My very sincerely condolences...
