“ To: James Family

Losing a loved one is often difficult to cope with, especially when it is so sudden and unexpected. However, let your healing process begin with the fond memories of that special Angel that God allowed your family to share in your lives and your hearts. There will be days when the passing of James Death will lay heavily on your minds and bring tears to your eyes. Let those tears be tears of Joy, of the fond memories that you had of your son, brother, uncle.

We will keep you in our prayers.##imported-begin##robert,anna & thomas moseley##imported-end##
