“ Every time I want to post, but then I stop! This is so hard and painful for me, until I'm numb. Dad I will sure miss the long long talks that we always had. Being your first born as you would always say ! We would laughing about when I was little and you would always say Twala You remembered that and we would laugh and I would say Dad I remember everything. Well Dad guess what I'm going to always remember all the great memories we shared, the last one was when I was taking you home and you found out I was recording you and you said you better pay attention to the road and stop playing with that phone,,I laughed so hard until you had to laugh with me. I'm so glad that we always had happy times together. When Mazhae started to drive and was always at your house I got a little jealous and was like look boy that's my father and we all would laugh about it. So Dad thank you again for the happy times that I could depend on with you!! Now you can join my mom and I will have two Angels aways watching over me. Love you Dad Rest Peacefully your Oldest, Twala

“ I praise God for my big brother and how we have always been there for each other. We made great memories and I thank God for them. He supported me through every venture in my life. He is the best and I miss him daily. I pick up the phone to call and text you, but then it hits me he is not there. He is now with my Mom, Dad, and Sister and they are waiting for me. Rest in peace, dear brother. Rest in peace! I love you to the moon and back!
