Mr. Miller not only had six children, he was like a dad to most of us that grew up on W Street SE. He was my Sunday school teacher, mentor, driver, neighbor, you name it, that's what he was to most of us. I appreciate everything that you did for me and my family throughout the years. I will always remember our talks on the front porch and the wonderful meals that you shared with me throughout the years. I'm truly grateful and blessed for having you in my life growing up and being part of your family. Thank you Martina, Wayne, Jayne, Rosslyn, and Rob, for sharing your dad with me throughout our childhood years. He will be truly missed! RIP Mr. Miller your work on earth has been done and your memories will last forever in my heart! T. Angela Jones

“ There is not enough space here to list the gratitude and admiration that I have for Mr. Miller and the Miller family. I cannot forget how he taught me how to tie a necktie in the living room of the family home on W Street. I cannot forget how he taught me all the ins and outs of my 1971 Dodge Charger, that frequently would cut off when I came to pick Wayne up to go to school each morning at Anacostia High. I cannot forget the advice and encouragement given on that front porch by both Mr. and Mrs. Miller. It's been 50 years of wonderful times made to feel like family always. Wayne, Jayne, Martina, Bobby, Roslyn and Jerome were truly blessed to have such outstanding, compassionate, and loving parents. Rest in God's care and I give thanks to him for allowing the Miller family to be a part of my life.

“ What can I say about the man who helped raise me. I was there every summer from 6 until I moved to SC. He loved me the same as my cousin. I was blessed to be one of his many children. Although I was a cousin to him I was one his children. Him and Sis are no longer with us but they will live on in my heart forever!!!!

“ You always say "light skinned women like to talk long " so I'll make this as short as possible. You left us unexpectedly , I never thought the night before would be the last time I would hear your voice. Our family cookouts,Blue crabs summer, football trash talking will never be the same. Your genuinely kind loving nature to your family and friends will be missed . You're off to the Grand Prix Raceway , sleep on take your rest we love you but Jesus loves you best . Until we meet again . Donna Miller (daughter in-law)

“ My Dad was one of the hardest working men that I have known , I know I got my work ethic From him . One things I remember is the one time my dad had dropped his car at Sheehy Ford in Marlow Heights, they called to tell him his car was ready to be picked up so him and I walk from our house to Sheehy Ford and we talked about his childhood and growing up in the south, his grandmother and the great big biscuits that she would bake , that she made him eat , he really didn't like them all that much because they were to big. He also would take time out his day to help me deliver news papers at 5:30AM-7:00AM every morning, the crazy thing about this is he didn't get home from work until around 12:39AM in the morning he never fussed . I am laughing now because as long as he got his gas money when I got paid he was good. My dad loved and respected all his love ones , he would tell you what was on his mind but at least you knew where you stood with him . Dad you will be missed and you are truly loved , I hope I can continue to make you proud of me by the way I live my life like you have shown me , never forgetting a man is only as good as his word . Love you Dad , Rest In Peace .

“ Mr. Miller, a man of integrity. My name is Debbie Johnson and I met Mr. & Mrs. Miller back in 1990. What a beautiful couple, when I met them it was like finding a new family member. Oh let me tell you how we met. I am the second mom to their daughter Jayne Miller, she may not admit to it, but I am. She had a loving way of telling me who her mom and dad was 🤗but it didn't matter because we had an immediate bond and we surely love each other. Mr. Miller was a man full of wisdom and he didn't hold back in sharing it. The first time we met he was dishing out wisdom to Jayne. Down through the years Jayne and I have had many laughs from that day. I have had the pleasure to meet this family, break bread, share reunions, births, marriage, joy and sorrow. Mr. Miller you will be missed, but you have transitioned into the open arms of God and your earthly bride. To the Miller family, right now your hearts are broken, but your Dad's precious memories will bring joy to your heart. Keep the memories alive. I love all of you. Debbie

“ Hello everyone. My name is Alicia. I like to give the family my deepest condolences. My BFF is Roz his daughter we met at work and Roz invited me over to meet her mom and dad it was like love at first site. They both told me to call them mom and papa. I was so Delighted they Except me as one of there own children, And every since then I call him my papa. I love him so much he always make me smile he crack jokes and most of all he never changed. And even when he came home from the hospital he was still being himself he was talking to Roz and Roz didn't respond, he said could you hear. So I knew he was being him self I'm glad that I had the chance to talk to him before he transition. And I like to thank the family for letting me be apart him. 🤗

“ My father is a great dad who raise 6 kids in Southeast DC along with my mother. He raise us on a postal worker and cab driver salary. He was a family man who would talk us on rode trips, amusement park adventures along with neighborhood friends, drive miles to get bushel of crabs to come home to eat them in the dark due to the rain storm and take me to hospital every time I had an asthma attack. He had a strong faith with God in which he instill into his children. He is a dad, father, friend, uncle and was called dad, pop pop

“ My dad was a great father who raise 6 kids in Southeast DC along with my mom on a postal worker and cab driver salary. We always did things together as a family. We went on rode trips, amusement parks, watch the planes on Easter, drove hours to get bushel of crabs 🦀 to come back home and eat it in the dark because of a rain storm. He was a loving 😊 father, religious man and a no nonsense person but most of all he was a father, pop pop, daddy, pepaw, patient and to me he is the “Best Dad” ever. Love ❤️ Always Missing you every minute of the day.

My Uncle Richard to me and the best smile I loved his voice and laughter. I could always call him and stop by just because he was my last uncle and one of the best. He told me that he would never forget my birthday because I was born the year that he got out of the service and he and Aunt sis never forgot my birthday. He Will be remembered as a kind and loving family man who made room in his heart for all of his family nieces, and nephew, grandchildren. If you needed him he would show up and that was important and he always had time I love you so deeply Uncle Richard and I will truly miss you.
