“ I remember as a child being over at our grandmother's apartment on 125th Street in Harlem. My Uncle Jerry began telling us about his time in Vietnam. At the time I didn't know what Vietnam was. I don't think I even knew what the concept of war was but, I remember his stories. I never again saw him lay his soul so bare. I honestly don't know a whole lot about him, but I know that he loved his family and he and his brothers were very close.

“ He was my brother in law -who I knew since we were preteens.We always got along and I will remember him fondly. May his soul rest in peace.

“ I was so saddened to hear about Uncle Jerry passing.
Thinking of all who share in our loss-wishing you hope in the midst of sorrow, comfort in the midst of pain.
In His Spirit,
Gail Watson
