“ My Beloved Johnny,

Our brother by another mother. Our hearts has not been be same since learning of your passing and the coldness of events. We were suppose to enjoy the zucchini muffins you requested and I had promised you for your birthday. I can't bring myself to come to your Homegoing, for fear of addressing the heartlessness of your passing. It pains our hearts that you died alone, but we will always remember the Johnny Dobson who we knew for over 40 years. You had the biggest heart and your unconditional kindness will live in our hearts forever. The unconditional love that I saw you shower your mother with, and my mother as well, will live on in my hearts forever. My mom fell in love with you and named you her, "Cookie Boy". She loved the cookies you would bake for her. You were a big brother to George and me. George didn't like shopping, but that was one of the favorite things you and I loved to do... shopping for those less fortunate. Our involvement with the annual Angel Tree Program and the Holiday Shoebox Gift for the So Others May Eat (SOME) Shelter in DC was such a blessing to so many and I will truly miss your presence this year. Just think, we were going to ride our bikes again this summer. You were doubting me, but I was going to prove you wrong. Lol. And I can't say enough about the wonderful Godfather you were to Travis. Yes, Travis is heartbroken and expressed that it saddens him the most that you died alone. I know he will always remember the knowledge and words of wisdom that you always shared with him. We love you beyond words for working along with us in helping to carry out his homeschool school lessons. I will never forget all the field trips we shared with him. One of the many fond memories was our school outing to the Cosca Regional Park, Clinton, MD to catch tadpoles. You two were out in the water and I was taking pictures, and a snake swim up towards you two. You both started to hurried to get out of the water, when all of a sudden Travis stopped and said to me, "Take my picture"! I took the photo and the snake went about it's business. Afterward, the both of us found ourselves laughing so hard at Travis gesture. You loved nature and that was right up Travis alley. Remember when George and I took him a vacation to Sea World when he was four and he wanted to bring Shamu home and put in the bathtub. Too funny. He has been a little quiet since learning of your passing, but he is staying encouraged. He misses you beyond words and so do we. We miss you beyond words.

There are so many wonderful heartfelt stories I could share about our special bond over the years, but you already know. They were always filled with joy, even during the challenging times in our lives... if you will.

Although our hearts are heavy, we are so thankful to God that He blessed you to be able to get out and pay us a surprise visit in January before He called you home in February. There is an aching void in our hearts, but God will fill that void with his comforting spirit.

*A great friend, brother, and godfather who will live in hearts forever.
Rest In Peace.*

Faye, George, & Godson Travis
