“ My beautiful Aunt....

I'm tremendously sad that you are no longer with us and still in shock.

It's hard to imagine life without our usual phone and laugh about life, our children, and lessons we've both learned.

Who could have predicted our last phone call a few days before would be our last conversation. We laughed, talked about the latest, you did your usual quick smart aleck type of talk, and we continued laugh. I'm so happy I was able to share with you some great things on the horizon for me and you told me you were so proud and couldn't wait to see!

You meant the world to me and my children.

I realize how blessed that I always had a true village while growing up and so thankful that you were one of those in my village that understood the assignment!

You were one of the people that stood in the gap for me my entire life and I would always say you were "my girl". You always wished the best for me, always there for me, would tell it like it is, and always operated with great intentions; without judgement of others.

In your own way, you reinforced the idea that, one thing about Freeman women is that we are strong people.

You see, you were one of those that helped me to understand that the measure of true greatness lies in authenticity, positivity, and genuineness and not when superficial, greed, or arrogant/boastful actions are at hand. I realized how powerful this was as I grew older.

I admired and loved you so much!!!

You and I had many years of great times and I'm glad God granted the time we had together. You will always be with me...

My condolences to my cousins and my prayers are lifted that you all come to some sort of peace. The conversations we had showed me how much she loved her children and grands.

Your mom was an amazing person, mom, grandmother, and aunt!

As my reflection comes to a close, I am reminded that on the phone recently, one of your daughters said, "My mom did the damn thing!". That made me smile that she realized. Of course, I already knew just how great you were!

You did that, Joyce....you did that!

Instead of good bye, I'll say until we see each other again....

With love,

*Patricia Freeman
