“ *While working at her doctors office I met Keli. her mother and her sister, Kim I grew to enjoy the stories and ups and downs sitting talking in the waiting room. Each time was never the same and ran the gambit of emotions. Keli was a great young lady who had promise and I saw her grow at each appointment. I listened to her mother and we always shared stories and hugs. I was both shocked and devastated at her sudden loss. I will miss her hugs and conversations and always remember her booming voice, fun self and silly wit. I saw her for close to 13 years at least one to two times a month. RIP my young friend
