“ I just found out about the loss of this great man. I had the pleasure of meeting him when he mentored my son through some tough times. My favorite memory was in 2015 when my son was 13, he challenged my son to a foot race. Rev. Dr. Jackson not only raced him, but he beat him by a mile. He was breathing so hard after it was over I thought I was gonna have to go get some oxygen for him. When he finally caught his breath, he said he could never let any youngster beat him. Rev. Dr. Jackson changed my son’s life and the trajectory in which he was going. The impact he had on my son’s life is still very evident today and I am forever grateful. I know that he had a tremendous impact on every life he came in contact with. The reason I found out about his death, is because my son was looking him up to refer one of his friends to him. We both shed tears and exchanged memories. My heart goes out to his family because I know this was a tremendous loss for them, as well as everyone else who knew him. Because to know him was to love him. Rest well, good and faithful servant your presence on earth will truly be missed.

“ The Northan Family sends sincere condolences to the entire Jackson Family. It's never emotionally easy to endure losing a loved one, especially so soon. May your comfort be in knowing when laying down his earthly tent for an incorruptible body, Kevin left behind a legacy of love and many memories of joy which is commendable in the sight of God. As one of Kevin's neighbors for the past 16 years, we can attest that Doveheart Lane will not be the same without our most genial, motivational, and amusing neighbor. He will be missed. May Kevin rest in peace in accordance with 2 Timothy 4:7, NIV

“ Rev Dr. Kevin Jackson (affectionately known as "Bruh" and Doc)

Kevin and I worked closely together for over nine years (since 2014) as credit union board directors. At the time of his passing, he served as Board Chair. Kevin's passing has deeply impacted the Board and the Labor Credit Union family. Many of us recently participated in a virtual call and shared memories about how Kevin touched our lives. I am saddened beyond the ability to convey in words how profoundly he will be missed. Over the years, we traveled to credit union conferences and trainings where Kevin developed friendships throughout the credit union community with colleagues who resided in Texas, Minnesota, and across the U.S.

Throughout Kevin's brief 2.5-year tenure as chair, he provided tremendous leadership. I greatly benefited from the many ways he shared his knowledge and expertise, life experiences, and motivational moments. He will be missed for his gregariousness, calling us brother and sister, and his occasional "slip-ups" with using churchdom expressions in the Board or workplace setting, prompting an "Amen" from the directors and colleagues! During the last several months, it seems Kevin was trying to prepare us for his transition. His level of commitment seemed to shift and he worked tirelessly in support of credit union matters and concerns, challenging the Directors to be even more vigilant and responsive to the needs of the membership. He was the visionary behind The Labor Community Foundation. Kevin had a true servant's heart and he modeled this before us. Kevin, your indelible mark of influence will always be remembered. Lastly, Kevin, I forgive you for your animated jest and throwing shade at my beloved alma mater - Howard U., because deep inside, I believe you loved the Real H.U.

Rest well, child of God! I, too, will see you in the morning! Your colleague and sis, Alberta Forbes Baker

Today is a very sad day for me. My mentor and FRIEND Rev. Dr. Kevin Jackson passed away. You know when you last speak to someone whether it's face to face, phone, text, email, etc. you never believe it's going to be the last time you speak. The last conversation we shared. Kevin said to me, "When I grow up I want to be just like you." I said, now wait a minute Dr. Jackson you are my big brother, role model, and mentor whose garment I tug on for strength, support, and wisdom. Kevin and I had this playful thing at the Department of Labor (something I started 🤔) were we would walk behind one another unannounced and hold the bottom of the other's jacket and whisper "Precious Lord if I could just touch the hem of your garment. It is you who have anointed me, for I feel whole in your presence!" We would giggle like two little schoolboys in a gleeful exuberance know exactly who it was behind you and greet one another with massive bear hugs no matter or where in the building. Today my friend's struggle is over. All the joys and pains of this earthly world is no more. Kevin was a great soldier in God's earthly kingdom, an amazing mentor, and an outstanding friend. Man I am gonna to miss you Rev. Dr. Kevin Jackson but your father has called you home to touch the hem of His garment. Bye for now... your friend Dr. Jerry A. Bolling. Love you bruh!

“ A Prince has fallen. What a man, friend, and Brother. While we live this life to transition into the home "built by God," this just seems too soon. My Brother's gregarious smile and positive attitude towards life was unmatched. As we talked, he always lifted how much his adored his family. It was my honor to recommend him to the 29th Eastern Province Polemarch to appoint him as the the first Vice Chaplain of the Eastern Province, and he carried out his assigned duties with grace and dignity. He left his mark and every Vice Chaplain who comes after him shall know he laid the path.

Felicia and I pray for the Jackson family as you bid a "see you later" to this giant of a man. My fellow Pastor and Preacher and an astute consummate professional. He is missed already!

Sleep on our Prince!!! No more pain or sorrow. Tears are wiped away!!! Receive your crown, job well done!!!

Remembrance of Rev Dr Kevin Jackson a joyful person to be in contact with special our attendance at Old SBCSW 1200 Canal St SW Washington, DC. Dr Jackson would say you make my day every time we came in contact with each other, id say something to get him started with his laughter he'd so lovely would say now miss Hawkins you did it. i sure appreciated him saying Miss Hawkins you can make some of the Best homemade dinner rolls. that was a big compliment of my cooking and my baking I can remember working with our youth department as a cook Dr Jackson would say chef Hawkins Dr Jackson and his late brother Clarence always lent a helping hand in placing the tables Church's lawyer lower auditorium. lifting heavy stuff for the youth Department events. of whatever I needed him to do special on Sunday morning they would meet me at the churches door at 6:am in the morning to enter .Dr . Jackson was a young man that I saw growing up. as a great preacher and teacher, he also was a praying servant of God when I would send him my text he'd say are you listening and I'd say yessuh ooh'God'yessuh and he'd laugh .to the Jackson family you all haven't loss Rev. Dr Kevin Jackson you can find him sitting somewhere around God's throne preaching and teaching. Good night Rev. Dr Kevin Jackson I'll see you in the morning laughing! please don't crown 🙌 Him Until I get there.
