

Deacon Leo Randall

January 5, 1937 - July 23, 2022

Deacon Leo Randall, better known as “Buddy” by his family, was born January 5, 1937, in Conway, South Carolina, to the late Luther Sr. and Ethel Randall. He resided in Washington, DC. He transitioned from this life into eternal rest on Saturday July 23, 2022. Deacon Randall was joined in holy matrimony to Deaconess Johnnie Randall on September 18, 1961. Out of this union, they had one son, the late Kelvin L. Randall, Sr.

Deacon Randall was best known for his gifted singing. His favorite song to sing was, “I’ll Trust in God”. He was notorious for his two-step jump while singing. He enjoyed hymnals and quartet music. As the patriarch of the Randall Family, he was always sharing Godly wisdom, providing spiritual guidance, and instilling morals and values within the family.

He leaves to cherish his fondest memories, his wife Johnnie, daughter-in-law Sharon, grandchildren; Kelvin Jr. (Natasha), Sharde’ (Jerry), Kelsey, and Shanice, six great-grandchildren; Chanel, Kamarie, Kaiden, Shiloh, Sinai, and Ethan, brother Billy (Georgia), sister Mary Della, special niece Claudette (Ralph III), and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

“ Deacon Randall is the definition of a Christian. Very faithful and loyal. Willing to teach and help those along the way.

And could he sing!!! Very powerful voice!! Even the Angels would be amazed and spread their wings!!! My favorite song Deacon Randall would sing was "Sending Up My Timber".

I would always greet Deacon Randall with "how's my heart?" He would give a big smile and laugh! 😊

Deacon Randall, you will always be loved, cherished, and missed!

“ When I would see Deacon Randall, I would always ask him, "how's my heart"? He would flash that beautiful smile and laugh! 😊

Deacon Randall is the true definition of a Christian. Always asking questions, especially in Sunday School. I couldn't wait to hear what questions he would ask. Because he taught me and made me want to study more.

What a powerful voice! Boy could Deacon Randall sing!!! My favorite song he would sing is "Sending Up My Timber". The Lord has now made his mansion, way up in the sky!

Deacon Randall, you're the best and I will surely miss you! 🙏
