This still seems so unreal that you are gone Marshall. I hope you are at peace. You will truly be missed. Gone but never forgotten.

“Grace and peace to you from God our father and Jesus Christ our Lord.” (I Cor. 1:3 KJV) Cousin Diana, please know that I offer you deepest sympathy, warmest condolences and my fervent prayers during this time of bereavement and sorrow over the transitioning of your Dear Husband, Marshall B. Woodfolk. For all the years that you two shared, 27 married and the prior 11 as friends, I never doubted the love you had for Marshall because it was all over you for anyone to see. I shall never forget the love you have for him because whenever someone would mention his name your face would always light up - your eyes would get wide, those beautiful white teeth would shine and your voice would catch that "cute little blush quality". I always delighted in how you loved your husband. Thank you for the very fine example of Christian marriage, duty and love for Marshall all of those years. In so doing, you have given us all something more to grow towards.
