“ Grandma,

I'll always cherish our time together. From watching Saturday morning cartoons to you helping me with my homework, to driving you to the grocery store & your doctor appointments when I finally got my driver's license. These are the memories I'll carry with me until we finally meet again. I love you.

*Your Grandson,
Ken*

“ Dear Ma,

My heart grieves for the loss of you and words cannot express the void you leave behind. You were the mother I received the day I married your son. I will never forget that memorable day when I met you for the first time. It was a Monday morning and you made me breakfast and welcomed me with open arms. You share stories of your mother and siblings with great affection and admiration. You were a wonderful soul and the manner in which you touched my life will never be lost.

You were the warmest and most caring mother-in-law a daughter-in-law could ever pray for in life. I had the privilege of sharing everything with you without fear of being judged or being treated unfairly. Despite marrying your adopted son, you treated me like a daughter and not a daughter-in-law. That relationship lasted until the day I left Dexter in North Carolina, but you were only upset with me for a passing moment. You were a strong, loving, gracious, and compassionate woman and one that I could only aspire to be like.

You leave behind a legacy that reflects highly on you as a woman, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother, sister, and aunt. Your presence will be felt even after you are long gone because your children will live on with the unconditional love you shared with them all their lives. I was honored and humbled to have had the opportunity to be the recipient of your unconditional love and you filled the motherly void when I lost my mother 10 years ago.

While it is very difficult to deal with your adopted son at time, I promise you that I love him with all my heart and will be there for him through thick and thin. You taught me more than I can express in this letter to you and I am forever grateful to you for that. Chase has lost yet another grandparent from the Weaver family, but he is blessed to have shared in your life's journey for 22 years.

These are the memories that I will cherish forever and know that God blessed me when I entered your life. I adored and loved you with all my heart and will miss you more than I am able to reveal in words. May you rest in peace Ma and please continue to watch over your children and grandchildren from heaven.

Your loving daughter-in-law,

Kathleen

“ It is with great sadness that I learned of Mrs. Weaver's demise. My heart and prayers remain with my favorite brother-in-law Charles, my sister Kathleen, nephew Chase, Laverne, Darlene, Brent, and the other beloved grandchildren left to mourn the loss of Mrs. Weaver. My interactions with Mrs. Weaver is written with indelible ink in my heart and soul. She was a gracious and humble individual with a wonderful sense of humor. Her precious gems were her children and grandchildren and she guarded them with unconditional love. Words are not enough to describe the legacy Mrs. Weaver leave behind, but the love and care she shared with everyone she touched will live on forever. May her soul rest in peace.

“ I have so many wonderful memories of my dear Aunt Mildred. Many of them make me laugh, and all of them make me smile. Aunt Mildred was a strong, loving woman who will never be forgotten. Nobody could deliver an opinion like she could. I thank her for helping to mold me. It will be hard to imagine her not being with us. Stay strong, my cousins, and remember your mother's love. We will all love her forever.

Lovingly,

“ I will always remember the happy times I spent with my Aunt Mildred and her family. There is an everlasting place in my heart for her. She was one 'Special Lady' so full of love. They broke the mold when they made her.

To the weaver family I share heartfelt condolences. Death is so unnatural and was never God's purpose for the human family. I just want you to know that he will end all sickness, pain, and sorrow, and even death will be no more. All of the tears many families have shed will certainly be wiped away by the Father of all tender mercies and comfort. Isaiah 25 verse 8. One day all in the graves will rise again by means of the promised resurrection. God promises: "Your dead will live. My corpses will rise up. Awake and shout joyfully you residents in the dust! For your dew is as the dew o the morning, and the earth will let those powerless in death come to lige. Isaiah 26 verse 19. One day your precious loved one will live again. May these precious Bible truths bring you much comfort, as well as the precious memories of your loved one.

“ Mother dear I will miss you for so many reasons I don't know where to begin. Over the years you have always been there for me. The bonds of love we shared were special and I know no matter what I have done you would still stand beside me. Say hello to Rich & my brothers until we meet again. Mean while I know I will just have to learn to do without you until that day comes, until that day comes. Always your Loving Knee Baby.

Chucky, while I may not know your whole family, I do know you. I know you for being one of the best human beings ever created and I know this was largely due to your Mom and her influence. I am so sorry you and your family have to go through this, so my heart goes out to you. Just hold fast to all of the good memories and when you feel sad bring them out and remember the good times. One of my all time favorites was working with you with you on your family's football pool and finding out that Heavy D was actually your Mom's "football" name :) Love to you, Kathleen, and Chase and to all of your family. From your first "Charlie's Angel", Kathy (and Donnie too)
