

Richard E. Johnson

July 24, 1943 - January 7, 2022

Richard Eugene Johnson Sr. (also known as Slim) made his transition on Monday, January 17th, 2022, at George Washington Hospital, Washington D.C. Richard was born on July 24, 1943 in Crumpler, West Virginia to the late Russell David Johnson and Elizabeth Hounshell Johnson.

He later moved to Washington, D.C. and attended DC Public Schools. A few years later, he married the love of his life, Aurelia Johnson (deceased).

Richard was a Cook at Wilson's Restaurant on 7th Street, NW. He loved all sports, but basketball had his heart. His favorite was the Washington Football Team (Redskins). He enjoyed spending the holidays with his children, grandchildren and great grandkids. He was into fashion and had a love for shoes. He was known as the "baddest" dancer in the neighborhood. Richard had an infectious smile that spread ear to ear. It was a beautiful smile that was inherited by many of the Johnson offspring. Richard never met a stranger because everywhere that he went he would always meet and talk to people. Richard was preceded in death by his one sister Annette Johnson and two brothers Russell Alphonso Johnson and William Lewis Johnson.

Richard leaves to cherish his memories; his five children: Richard E. Johnson Jr., Gwendolyn M. Vinson, Michael A. Johnson, Michelle Johnson-Law and Elizabeth A. Johnson; ten grandchildren: Alec, Richard, Tamara, Tiffany, LaToya, Michael, Sydney, Justin, Dominique, and Maurice; great grandchildren and a host of aunts, nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Sometimes, life doesn't seem fair, and this is one of those moments. Uncle Richard was one of the good guys. I will miss him terribly. Love Traceya

A Courageous Fight....

Richard fought a good fight courageously and profoundly a constant and continuous struggle.

Keeping his pride by his side, he unleashed the healing power within his self to make others happy. He healed and repaired our lives by just simply being Richard.

Never did he feel self pity or want others to sympathize. His weapon was love to keep life alive.

Many tears will be shed , hearts will be shattered, our mind will reflect and reminisce asking ourselves "Is Richard looking down on us".

God has made preparations and tailored special clouds, the angels will escort him to his rightful place, groups of pure white doves surrounding his spirit as Richard transcends into glory and beauty.
