“ My condolences to Ron's family. Ron was a mentor for me at IBM and someone I took great pride in calling "my manager" and "friend". He and his manager buddy, Jerry Schrader always made the workplace a fun place to be for all the new IBMers that were coming into the company in the early 80s such as myself. Ron taught me how to network and develop business relationships that would serve me well throughout my career with IBM. May his peace be our peace in knowing his next journey has just begun.
