“ I remember grandmama always being active. When I was a little girl, I watched my grandmama clean the house as I listened to gospel music. As an adult, I watched her take care of her family in sickness and in health. As she became ill, it was an honor to help take care of her. She had amazing strength and courage up until her passing. Whether as a little girl or a grown woman, I will always miss, love and cherish my grandmama.
