“ To the Williams' family, on behalf of the Howard University family, I would like to express my heartfelt condolences during this period and letting you know our prayers are with. There is comfort in knowing that God created good and that Russell Williams epitomized that in how he lived his life as a family man and he touched the lives of so many as an educator and a upstanding human. Rest assured that he no longer among us in the flesh, but his spirit and kind deeds will remain among us.
