“ Today the last day of February, 29th 2024 I learned of the passing of Sam (over 7 months late). I had been trying to contact him for several months. I am awestruck to learn of his passing for he was in good form last I talked to him. Our talks about politics, world affairs and sports were long. He tried to stay engaged. I'm going to miss his invitations to 100 black men, Armstrong high school and family events.

I first met Sam at The US Department of Housing & Urban Development where he worked for many years. He tried to enjoy his retirement. I remember his smooth dancing, easy smile and great conversations at events. He's going to be missed. Rest in peace Sam.
