“ To Bryant, Kiana and Family, Words seem inadequate to express the sorrow felt by the loss of Sandra. We were colleagues and friends at Joel Elias Spingarn SHS for over two decades. Sandra touched many students' lives and lives of people she came to know. She left indelible, loving and caring memories not to ever be forgotten.

Peace, Prayers and Blessings to the Family,
Cassandra McLeod

“ Michael and I were so surprised to hear of Sandra's passing.
Sandra and I had lost connections for a few months. We talked for two or more hours, refreshing our memories of our times at Spingarn High School and our family life. She was a dear friend. To her family, cherish the memories of your mother and remember her "lessons of life." May God bless you bountifully and give you comfort in your time of sorrow.

Love,
Frances and Michael Wyche

“ After retirement, we spent countless hours talking and laughing about our childhoods and college years. She was from Warsaw, Virginia and I from Arkansas. We both attended HBCUs talking about college years and her college friend Phillip.

She was an AkA and I a Zeta. Sandra and I became lifelong friends in 1992 as teachers working with mentors through the Washington Post High School Journalism Advisory Network helping to take students to New York City and Columbia University every year and proucin g high school newspapers from our classrooms. and later worked as together as teachers inthe DCPS night school for adult students. She loved teaching and Spingarn high School with a cheerleader passion where she was recognized numerous times for English teaching skills.

Sandra was always thinking of others and I enjoyed outdoor barbecues at her home and meeting her most precious children Bryanl and Kiona and her talented and gifted granddaughters Monet & Aidan that she talked about endlessly one of their favorite song together when they were young was “I Hope You Dance” by Gladys Knight

To the family of Sandra Walker that because that how i knew her. You know her as sister, mother, aunt and friend. I grew with her. we went to school together. I had seen her for years, but when I heard that voice, I didn't have to see her i knew exactly who voice is was. I remember her as a very nice person, with a soft spoken voice. I just saw her a few months ago, I heard that voice. You know what my response was, that is Sandra. I know you will miss her, may she rest in peace, no more pain. Very sorry to hear about your loss. The Lord take care of us. God's Blessings
