“ It's January 2026. I just found out that Terry passed away. I knew in my heart he was gone but I kept searching from time to time. I used work with him at Raden & Smith in Maryland. I had his phone number when I moved to North Carolina and we kept in touch but then one day he didn't answer and then the number was no longer good. Even though he's been gone for awhile here on earth, it hurts to truly know that what I suspected is true. He was one of the best co-workers and a friend that I've ever had and I still have a gift he bought me during Christmastime one year. His smile was contagious and so was his laugh. We had many good story times and would take lunch breaks together when we could so we could talk about all the stuff at work going on. I remember meeting his wife Val and his sister who is a dentist that had her office on the same floor as ours. Such a wonderful man lost way too soon. My condolences to all of his family and friends. I know you all must miss him very much.

“ Dear Val,

I'm so grateful I had the opportunity to know a man like Terry. From the first time you introduced him more than 20 years ago to the last time I saw him at your Mom's homecoming he was always the consummate gentleman, so kind, gracious, warm, and welcoming! I remember sharing a bottle of wine around the kitchen table of your first home. I knew he would be a loving husband, a great role model and father to Artie and Amber and a dear friend. Terry was a Class Act and a Blessing to everyone who had the good fortune to know him, including me. I will cherish his memory. Blessings to you and the family.

Lovingly,

Sabrina Squire, friend from the West End

“ Dear Greg and Sandy

A light has gone out in our world, and it was Terry. My heart was saddened to hear of his passing, and yet I know that he has ceased from suffering on this side of heaven. My prayer for you and your family during this, your hour of bereavement, are found in the words of Moses, "As your days, so shall your strength be." Duet 33:25. God will provide you with the strength that you need to navigate the darkness of this time. But again we are reminded, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning." Psalm 30:5. Terry was a beautiful person, full of life and he had an irresistible smile. He will be missed, but never forgotten. My prayers will continue to be with you and yours always.

In His grace,

Rev. Ron Stanley, Jr.

I will never forget his decorating flair and he was such a great dresser, looking good from head to toe. I know that Heaven is receiving Him and angels are all around him. Much love and sympathy to Val, Artie, Amber and other family members.*

“ To the Family of Terry, please accept my heart felt condolences. I loved Terry very much! I met Terry at Morgan State and we immediately formed a bond that is everlasting. Terry will forever hold a special place in my heart. It is still so very surreal that Terry is no longer on this side of glory and I will no longer have the opportunity to gaze upon his dapper, debonaire person. I know that Terry is dancing in Heaven as we did together on numerous occasions. When I graduated Morgan, Terry and I would make sure that we worked at the same place. If he was at an insurance company before me he would put a word in for me to get hired and vice-versa. I am honored that he allowed me to be a part of his world. Artie and Amber, your dad was so proud of you and he loved you immensely.

In Peace,

“ My brother/friend has traveled home to be with the one who loves him most. Some say he is in the heavenly choir but I know Terry can't sing. I believe with my whole heart he is has joined the Liturgical Dance Ministry and is showing them a thing or two and telling them they can't wear white after Labor Day. Rest in peace my dear dear friend.
