

Terry V. Jackson

June 5, 1964 - January 30, 2026

Terry Venson Jackson, 61, of Washington, DC, peacefully entered into eternal rest on January 30, 2026, at MedStar Southern Maryland Hospital Center in Clinton, Maryland.

Born on June 5, 1964, in Washington, DC, to the late Elnora Jackson and David Jackson, Terry was preceded in death by his brother, David Jackson, Jr.

A lifelong resident of Washington, DC, Terry was raised and educated in the District of Columbia Public School System. He dedicated more than 25 years of faithful service to the Department of Public Works in the Waste Management Division. He later continued his career at Joint Base Andrews, where he worked as a Recycling Technician, extending his commitment to keeping his community clean and environmentally safe.

In his spare time, Terry found joy in the things he loved most—spending time with his only son and precious grandchildren, enjoying a good game of chess, riding his motorcycle, and tinkering with electronics. He often relaxed while watching his favorite movies on Tubi. His hardworking nature, loving heart, and the legacy of care he leaves behind will forever live in the hearts of those who knew and loved him.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving son, Lamont Whitney (Tairra, his significant other); his beloved grandchildren, Isaiah Whitney and Janaii Jackson; his devoted sisters, Ramona Jackson, Theresa Jackson, and Patricia Jackson; his longtime companion, Sharron Stewart; her daughter, Janelle Stewart; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, relatives, and friends who will deeply miss him.

Terry's beautiful spirit will continue to live on through his family and all the lives he touched.
