Johnston Family: Thank you for allowing us, the Jacksons, to be a part of Tim's life for the past 19 years. We were proud to be his godfamily -- godparents, godbrother, and godsister. We couldn't have asked for a better godson/godbrother. He was truly loving, sincere, genuine, down-to-earth, and lovable to the core! We are going to miss him deeply, but have so many memories, photos, and videos to cherish until we meet him on the other side. God bless you all.##imported-begin##Chris Jackson##imported-end##

“ I was the principal at Chavez when Tim attended the school. I was his advisor in his senior year. Tim will be sorely missed. His kindness, humor and positive attitude were his much admired traits. In the world of teenagers, which is often a world of cliques, Tim was able to befriend a vast and diverse number of people. Tim’s quiet courageousness and open heart helped create a closer and friendlier community. Tim would often stop by my office to chat, share new ideas, and just ask how I was doing. He was special. My deepest sympathy to Tim’s family. Thank you for sharing him with us. I treasure the gift.
