“ Dear family and friends, I met Wade while we were students at Howard University back in the mid 1960s. We stayed in the same dormitory (Cook Hall) and walked the halls of the Engineering and Architecture building. We both graduated and went our separate ways but then managed to re-unite at GSA headquarters near the White House. We worked in the same office for 13 years until I moved to another job. Wade was a man of unquestionable integrity. If you wanted to hear something other than the truth you need not bother to ask Wade. On occasion his determination to deliver an honest assessment did not get a warm reception from the hierarchical management chain. But you could always trust in the fact that his response was the real deal and ultimately proven to be right on target. We shared many, many conversations at Howard and at GSA and I shall always cherish those exchanges. With Much Respect and Deepest Sympathy, Ezel Silver Jr.
