“ I would like to extend my deepest condolences to my friend Annette Clark Smith and her entire family in the loss of her brother William Clark aka Jr. He was a quiet spirit but I will always remember him as Annette's smart, handsome cool brother. Everyone knows he had to be kind & loving just to deal with me and my BFF! I'm so glad I had chance earlier this summer to see his face again & say hello while he was visiting his mom to celebrate her birthday.
Rest In Peace Jr. You were loved by many and will be sorely missed❤️

“ William Clark Jr. was affectionally know as Jr. We always embraced one another as siblings whether in person or from a distance. Earlier in life, he and I both grew up in North Carolina, we saw each other quite often and had a good relationship. He was genuine. After moving to Maryland, we didn't see each other as much, but whenever we saw each other or talked on the phone it was like old times, the love we had for one another remained the same. It will be hard not seeing him or hearing his voice again. I remember visiting Jr., and him talking about how passionate he was about the show Star Trek and his knowledge of all the characters old and new. The final chapter of Jr's life was like the last episode of “Star Trek Voyage Home” which incorporated travel, love and the importance of family. Prior to his passing he traveled to North Carolina and exemplified his love and the importance of family. Now he's on the voyage to his eternal home. He may be gone from my sight, but he will always be in my heart.

“ I will always remember my 1st cousin, Junior as quiet, super smart, and cool. He was not “that” cool in a John Shaft kinda cool, but easy, and laid back. When my Commanders win, I scream and jump. Whether the Cowboys won or loss his expression stayed the same. Even Keeled.
Rest In Peace cousin.
